Emerge Leadership Training for A Sustainable Society

TAKEAWAYS

• Training: Participants hone advanced leadership skills and make high value connections within the community at this public workshop.

• Mentoring: Follow up mentoring plays an important role in helping EMERGE attendees achieve their leadership potential.

• Community Building: Community is the heart of Emergent Leadership both in terms of getting results and sustaining the day-to-day leadership effort.

“I was thinking of moving on to new challenges and opportunities...but with the Emerge workshop experience I feel motivated to put in the time necessary to bring our group to a higher level of performance. Our group touches over 8,000 buildings. Thank you! ”

Captain John Hickey, Chief Commander of the Coast Guard’s National Energy Efficiency Program

The EMERGE Leadership Project is a 501c3 non-profit dedicated to energizing the emergent leadership capabilities of green building professionals and sustainability advocates with the ultimate goal of fostering a thriving and life-sustaining environment.
